

Valerie Daldrup

economist and expert in the fields of technology transfer, start-up and business promotion. She works at the Service Center for Research & Transfer of the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena, where she is coordinating the International Startup Campus, a joint initiative with the universities of Halle and Leipzig. At the same time, she has been working at Fraunhofer IMW at the Knowledge and Technology Transfer Division. Previously, she has been an advisor for public institutions and companies in innovation and ecosystem management at EY and senior manager at Federation of German Industries and the Asia-Pacific Committee of German Business.

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/valerie-daldrup/>