

Dr. Johanna Schwarz – Innovation Scout & Transfer Manager

Transfer Agency hei_INNOVATION; Heidelberg University

Dr. Johanna Schwarz, an innovation scout and transfer manager at hei_Innovation, plays a pivotal role in the technology and knowledge transfer in the area of physical and computer sciences at Heidelberg University. Her broad research interests and dedication to transdisciplinary collaboration shape her work. Actively involved in various transfer formats, she facilitates the conversion of ideas into tangible innovations. Beyond her regular activities as scout, coach and speaker on various occasions, Johanna emphasizes networking, recognizing its significance in forging connections between academia and industry. Her commitment extends to addressing societal challenges through transfer activities, underscoring the practical impact of academic research on society.

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/johanna-schwarz-3a289b2b/>